

Katarzyna Sobolewska-Mikulska

Doctorate (PhD) In Engineer Science (Dr-Ing) in 1996 at the Warsaw University of Technology in Warsaw; Higher Doctorate (HD) Examination on a thesis presented to qualifying oneself as assistant professor in 2010 at the University of Warmia and Mazury in Olsztyn.

Membership of Professional Bodies:

- Reviewer Board of scientific monograph published by Hrvatski Informatički Zbor – GIS Forum;
- Vice – President of the Polish Association of the Development of Rural Areas
- Scientific Secretary of the Reviewer Board of the scientific and technical journal “Przegląd Geodezyjny”
- Member of the Scientific Association of Properties
- Member of the Geodesy Committee of the Polish Academy of Science
- Member of the Association of Polish Geodesists

Present Position: Professor of the Warsaw University of Technology; Faculty of Geodesy and Cartography in Warsaw. The boss of the cadastre and land management department in this faculty.

More than twenty five years of work experience, which combines the indepth, professional knowledge with practical experience. Specific areas of interests:

- Land management and cadastre with special attention to land management in rural areas
- The development of rural areas in respect of environment protection and the structure of rural landscape
- Geodesy works with special attention to land consolidation inclusive of infrastructural consolidation
- Spatial planning in the development of rural areas
- Property evaluation
- Property management.

Lecturing on: geodesy works in rural areas, land consolidation, property evaluation, property management, field works/trip with students, diploma seminars.

Scientific description: environmental protection as an aspect of land management (e.g. antiflood activities) for rural areas, integration of spatial planning with the development plan of rural areas, infrastructural land consolidation and the problem of using Less Favoured Agricultural Areas (LFA)

From 1993– 2012 active participation in 38 international scientific and technical conferences (papers, running seminars); author of monograph: Methodology of the development of rural areas with consideration of selected land surveying procedures in the aspect of the integration with the European Union (Publishing House PW 2009 r.); co-author of monograph The cadastral system and reforming the spatial structure of rural areas in European Union countries and in Poland (Published House SGGW 2002); co-author of a book for students: Land consolidation and exchange of areas in the development of rural areas (Publishing House PW 2007 r.); author of a book for students author of book for students The geodetic and legal procedures in land management in rural areas – to be published (Publishing House PW 2012r.); co-author of the monograph: the management system of properties belonging to the police (Publishing House WAT 2012); author of over 80 scientific papers.